Description:

Invertis University orchestrated an enlightening faculty orientation program on August 08th, 2022, held at the main auditorium on campus. The primary objective was to immerse new faculty members in the university's ecosystem, acquainting them with its facilities, academic community, and available resources.

Esteemed dignitaries graced the event, including Dr. Umesh Gautam, the Honorable Chancellor, Dr. Y. D. S. Arya, the Honorable Vice Chancellor, and various departmental deans. An impressive turnout of 255 participants attended this significant occasion. Dr. Umesh Gautam set the tone with an inaugural address, extending a warm welcome to the faculty newcomers. He urged them to embrace the upcoming academic opportunities, highlighting qualities such as diligence and determination as cornerstones of success. Dr. Y. D. S. Arya followed suit, introducing the university's overarching vision and mission.

The program featured enlightening presentations by departmental deans, offering profound insights into their respective academic domains. This platform illuminated the array of courses and potential career trajectories, providing valuable information to the new faculty members. A comprehensive campus tour rounded off the orientation, offering a firsthand experience of the university's facilities. Participants were guided through the library, laboratories, sports complex, cafeteria, and hostels, providing a holistic understanding of the campus infrastructure and its resources. The invaluable feedback collected from the attendees shed light on the impactful addresses by the Honorable Chancellor and Vice Chancellor. Their emphasis on academic excellence and innovation resonated deeply. Additionally, the faculty members appreciated learning about the diverse campus clubs and extracurricular activities, which enriched their understanding of opportunities beyond traditional academics.
